

CLIENT TESTIMONIALS

One of our core values is “demonstrate, don’t declare”. With that in mind, these “client experiences” speak to our passion for exceeding your expectations:

KEY NOTE SPEAKING AND TRAINING WORKSHOPS

"From the very beginning of my working relationship with Anne, she showed the highest degree of professionalism. Anne ensured that her presentation would connect with her audience by doing extensive homework on the front end to deliver a relatable and relevant message to our group. I would highly recommend Anne for business speaking engagements as she has the knowledge base, presence, and ability to connect with her audience no matter the diversity of the group."

US Manager, Clinical Training, Edward Lifesciences

"Anne Leets is a dynamic and successful speaker who motivates and inspires through her commanding public speaking abilities. She has the talent to create a connection with her audience and deliver a message that is moving, powerful and compelling."

Vice President Sales, Hobo Accessories

"Anne was a very popular speaker at our National Conference on Executive Presence and Communications, and again with our national sales team . She offers very relevant perspective and business expertise and has an exceptional talent for training and coaching. She kept everyone extremely engaged and received outstanding feedback after the session!"

Regional President – Caesars Entertainment

"Anne Leets is a talented, confident and engaging speaker. She commands the attention of the room and has an inspiring presence and delivery. A true motivator of people! "

Sales Manager, Brighton Accessories

"Thank you again for being willing to be our keynote guest speaker for our Women in Leadership session at our 2016 National Sales Meeting. Prior to this session, we had the opportunity to provide advance notice to all of our field based women, letting them know that you would be our guest speaker. This no doubt contributed to the record attendance numbers we saw for our annual session this year. Throughout your session with our team, you provided us all with solid, practical, and actionable tips which we can continue to apply to cultivate our personal brand. Immediately following the session, we started receiving positive feedback from our attendees, highlighting that your message not only clearly resonated with them, but also motivated them to take action moving forward. Several from our team have reached out to connect with you on LinkedIn since then, and also have utilized the resource list you provided to them at the conclusion of your talk. These are visible signs of the ripple effect you help create as we at Edwards look to continually develop women within our field sales organization."

Vice President, Sales, Edwards Lifesciences

"Thank you, Anne, for such an educational session with so many key takeaways and learning! Your facilitation of Leadership Presence at Behr's Women's Leadership Forum was very moving and made significant impact on our team. The participants are still raving about how they were hanging onto your every word while experiencing your "leadership presence"."

Senior Director, People Services, BEHR | KILZ® A Masco Company

"Thank you so much again for spending time with our team as our keynote guest speaker for our 2016 Women in Leadership breakfast. Our team thought you did an amazing job! You helped our field based women understand more deeply what developing one's personal brand is all about, and left them with the gift of very practical and relevant tips that they can immediately apply to both their professional and personal lives. You energized and motivated our field based women as they continue the journey of owning and cultivate one's personal brand. Our deep thanks to you for the wide and positive impact you made with our team, which will continue to cascade in multiple ways throughout our organization moving forward."

Director - Sales Effectiveness, Edwards Lifesciences

"I've had the pleasure of hearing Anne speak on many different occasions. She always connects with her audience by being engaging and motivating and her personal style is serious yet fun and entertaining. Her message is delivered in a powerful and memorable way to inspire people towards success. Today I am still inspired by her!"

Sales Manager, Macy's

"Anne's speaking style is so unique...it is a brilliant balance of inspiration and practical application. She is very credible, relatable, humorous, inspiring and concise. She creates an immediate connection with her audience no matter the size or diversity. The audience leaves the room feeling motivated and focused. Any time spent in one of Anne's presentations will be time well spent."

Vice President, Sales, Jofit Inc

"Anne is one of the finest presenters and facilitators I know, not only because of the vast experience and knowledge she draws from, but because she is eloquent, poised and aspirational. It is an honor to be asked to share with you my experience with this exceptional leader, speaker and facilitator."

National Training Director, Brighton Accessories

"Thank you for spending time with us here at Edwards for the past two days. Both of your sessions were so relevant and insightful for me. I especially loved what you had to say about effective strategic networking and maintaining those relationships, as those are areas I struggle with. You gave me plenty of networking questions and other tools I can use in my day to day. I look forward to attending more of your sessions in the future. "
