

Just-In-Time Training

Keynote Topics

Anne Leets has presented to varied groups of sales, marketing and operations leaders...including the national "Lean-In Conference" for senior leaders at Caesar's Entertainment and the 2019 Women's Leadership Conference in Las Vegas.

She was described as "a highlight of the conference" and demonstrated her ability to "personally connect with the attendees". Through her extensive business experience, Anne has the unique ability to "see their world through their eyes" and deliver a message that resonates with, entertains, educates and inspires the group.

Passionate about advance preparation, Anne becomes a "student" of the client's business and interviews key leaders to make sure her presentation is relevant and meaningful with important perspective. She understands your organization is unique, so each topic is "customized" to fit your objectives, culture and audience.

Client Experiences with Anne

Anne Leets

With her extensive experience as a sales and marketing leader, and now CEO of The Leets Consortium, Anne Leets is a highly effective and engaging speaker. She shares her leadership expertise, business acumen and unique insight gained from her rewarding career in Fortune 500 companies. Her genuine and dynamic style connects with many types of audiences on today's most important leadership topics.

"It's very exciting and rewarding to connect with leaders, or those aspiring to be, and help them discover and embrace opportunities to enhance their capabilities and thrive in their careers."

Anne Leets

"Your presentation was "Spot On" with both refreshed reminders of how to create and sustain our personal brands and bringing that together for our team brand. We appreciate your partnership very much - thank you for enriching our meeting."

Talent Development Manager, Pacific Life

"Anne is one of the finest presenters and facilitators I know, not only because of the vast experience and knowledge she draws from, but because she is eloquent, poised and aspirational. It is an honor to be asked to share with you my experience with this exceptional leader, speaker and facilitator."

National Training Director, Brighton Accessories

"Throughout your session with our team, you provided us all with solid, practical, and actionable tips which we can continue to apply to cultivate our personal brand. Immediately following the session, we started receiving positive feedback from our attendees, highlighting that your message not only clearly resonated with them, but also motivated them to take action moving forward. Several from our team have reached out to connect with you on LinkedIn since then, and also have utilized the resource list you provided to them at the conclusion of your talk. These are visible signs of the ripple effect you helped to create as we at Edwards look to continually develop women within our field sales organization. Many thanks!"

Vice President Sales, Edwards Lifesciences

Edwards

"Anne was a very popular speaker at our National Women's Conference on Executive Presence and Communications, and again with our national sales team. She offers very relevant perspective and business expertise and has an exceptional talent for training and coaching. She kept everyone extremely engaged and received outstanding feedback after the session!"

Regional President, Caesars Entertainment

ENTERTAINMENT

"Thank you, Anne, for such an educational session with so many key takeaways and learnings! Your facilitation of "Leadership Presence" at Behr's Women's Leadership Forum was very moving and made a significant impact on our team. The participants are still raving about how they were hanging onto your every word while experiencing your "leadership presence".
