

Jennifer Buck

“While other coaches are often broadly prescriptive or offer “fortune-cookie” advice, Jen works with each client individually and helps you introspectively understand your own strengths and weaknesses. She then guides you, providing a mix of academic research and hands-on exercises, as you internalize adjustments and evolve your method of leadership in a way that is authentic to you. Working with Jen has given me additional managerial tools and has made me a more thoughtful, strategic, and effective leader.”

WHAT MAKES JENNIFER AN EFFECTIVE CONSULTANT?

Jennifer has over 25 years experience as a leader, consultant, and entrepreneur in the private, public and not-for-profit sectors. She has an impressive client list and has coached across diverse industries including Blizzard Entertainment, HBO, Caltech, JPL, Southern California Gas, First American, Hyundai and many more. Her no-nonsense communication style and uncompromising commitment to results have made her a trusted advisor to business executives.

As an executive consultant, she is adept at creating solutions that work including business-centered people strategies and intense, practical, results-oriented learning. Jennifer believes in creating a true coach-client partnership through open, honest, and direct dialogue. She adapts her approach to meet the unique needs of each individual, client and organization, and draws upon her own experiences as a seasoned business leader. Jennifer challenges and supports leaders in honing and advancing their leadership capabilities to meet the evolving challenges of their role and the business.

COACHING EXPERTISE

Executive coaching, leadership development, strategic thinking, change management, candor, emotional intelligence, influence and collaboration skills, self-awareness, executive presence, global leadership, critical thinking and problem-solving, team alignment, high impact communication, organization skills, interpersonal skills for technical leaders, and neuro-diversity in the workplace.

EDUCATION/CERTIFICATION

MA in Organization Development- Fielding Graduate University
 BA in Psychology- University of Washington
 Certified Coach- The College of Executive Coaching in Santa Barbara
 Certified Coach- Marshall Goldsmith Stakeholder Centered Coaching
 Certified Global Leadership Coach- Global Coach Group
 Graduate level certificate in Evidence-Based Coaching -Fielding Graduate Institute

OPERATIONAL BUSINESS EXPERIENCE

Jennifer has worked extensively in the financial services, marketing, consumer goods and human service industries as a dedicated leader building learning and development functions from the ground up. Her work in partnering with business leaders and executives is highlighted by her belief that talent management and leadership development are critical business strategies. She has worked in mergers and acquisitions as well as in start ups, rapidly scaling organizations, and extensive large scale change initiatives.

COACHING EXPERIENCE:

BUSINESS SECTORS: Aerospace, Entertainment, Healthcare, Automotive, Legal, Finance

LEADERSHIP LEVELS: VPs, SVPs, EVPs, C-Suite Executives